Merry Christmas

Jottings from - - -

Jo's Notebook

Like hundreds of thousands of other college students in these United States I am "home for the holidays." Steve Jones and I drove home Tuesday afternoon after our last class in weather that was so perfect and so balmy shirt-sleeved garments were in order.

The other member of my Vanderbilt "car pool," Steve Green, came home on Saturday. Oddly enough the first person we saw as we drove into South Fulton near the K & N emporium was Steve in his sleeked up Jaguar, enjoying the Spring-like weather with his little sister sitting beside him.

The two other members of the college contingent at Westwood flew into Paducah on Wednesday. So it will be a merry get-together for all of us.

Getting adjusted to the scholarly life has left me little time for home-sickness. Yet even if I had any leisurely moments I doubt if there would be any occasion to get those pangs of wanting to be home to see all the familiar faces. All I'd have to do would be to browse around the various stores in Nashville, chat awhile with the sales people, and soon I'd find the path-way to home-town relationships.

Two such events happened just last week-end within hours of one another.

At Castner-Knott Department Store I bought a gift for Paul. I handed my charge plate to the lady at the cashier's desk and she immediately exclaimed: "Fulton, Ky.! I wonder if you know my aunt Mrs. Ina Pittman?"

Well of course I allowed as how I did, whereupon I remarked to Judy Allen, my new found friend:

"Then you must be related to Pat Boone."

"He's my brother," she said. Well that brought on some more pleasant conversation and a glow of good feeling in my heart.

Going over to the Cain-Sloan Department Store the same events occurred. This time the lady said: "Do you know the Grahams in Fulton?"

"Some of my dearest and oldest friends," I said. Mary Sue Smith was the lady's name. Her husband, a sales representative for a well-known furniture company has been serving this area for a long, long time, Mary Sue told me. She often came with him.

Both Judy and Mary Sue said to be sure and give these mutual friends their best regards and holiday greetings, which I do this very minute.

On an earlier trip to Fulton I was having the car serviced at a station near my apartment building. The young attendant came to the window and said: "Hi Jo." Well, that was something of a switch from the usual staid salutations from the professors in the class-room.

But how sweet it sounded!

The young fellow was James Green, Kenneth Turner's nephew. He's a native West Kentuckian, has lived in Nashville for about a year, and remembers our associations at WFUL in the halcyon days of yore.

It's good news to know that Sara Bushart has accepted the presidency of the Banana Festival for a second term. These twin communities owe Sara a big bundle of gratitude for taking on such a monstrous task for a second go around and for doing such a superb job with her initial performance.

Sara is a tremendous organizer, a wonderful person to work with, a conscientious leader and a dedicated community worker.

With all this and a fine board of directors and advisors, it is no wonder that the 1968 slogan "the sensational sixth" sounds so exciting.

SOME THOUGHTS AT CHRISTMASTIME . .
With the size and magnitude of this week's paper (one of the largest we've ever published) I am reminded again of what my first managing editor said to me: "Jo there is no person in the world whose job cannot be filled, and oftentimes with the replacement doing a much better job" . . . Ouch, again!

I like to think that this is true, but not much in our shop. While Paul has burned the midnight oil he has had some folks around him that I don't think can be replaced or superceded for efficiency.

Death Of Eph Dawes Ends Devoted Career In Area's Publications

by Jo Westpheling

If there is a Fountain of Youth, then there is a Well of Printer's Ink. In the philosophy that they both connote the ultimate in happiness for many, then it is accurate to say that Eph Dawes lived a lifetime, refreshing each year with giant portions of enthusiasm from the Printer's Well for the profession he loved so sincerely.

Eph loved newspapering and newspaper production with such an intensity, that in spite of his failing eyesight he managed somehow to make frequent rounds of both newspaper offices almost every week. Eph was a valued employee of the Fulton News on different occasions, and as a matter of fact, with his brother Jim, founded this newspaper. His last full-time employment was with the Fulton Daily Leader, with which he was associated for many years with the present publishers and the former publishers, the Hoyt Moore Family.

His deep and loyal interest in both firms obliterated any physical debilities that might have plagued him in his later years.

Eph Dawes was a perfectionist. He was a gregarious and cordial man. He was our friend! We loved, respected and admired him.

In the casual camaraderie of a newspaper shop we called Eph a "worrier." It was an attribute of heroic proportions. He worried if the make-up was not to his sensitive tastes; if the linotype slugs were not infinitely accurate; if copy was sloppy; and most of all he worried about our families, his family and his legion of friends, which can be numbered by anyone who was fortunate enough to have met him, even casually.

He was a story-teller of the old school. His memory of local events past and present was so precise that we scarcely needed to refer to the files for background material of any newsworthy event of his generation. He was happiest when he could recount these events and what participation he had in them. He was an active participant in the newspaper history of this region.

Eph died unexpectedly of a heart attack last Thursday. Knowing of his intense passion for making his wife Lillie and other members of his family happy on every occasion, Eph would have been loath to mar their holiday happiness.

But Eph was a man whose robust nature and personality will long be cherished at any time of any year.

We extend our heartfelt sympathies to Lillie and to all the Dawes family. For we too have lost a dear and devoted friend.

Mrs. Ward Bushart Re-Elected President Of Famed International Banana Festival

Mrs. Ward Bushart, who guided the giant activities of the 1967 International Banana Festival to its justifiable slogan as "the fifth the finest," was unanimously re-elected last Thursday to a second term of office. At a meeting of board of directors held at the Chamber of Commerce office a nominating committee similarly presented a slate of other "veteran" Festival workers to serve with Mrs. Bushart in executive positions.

All were elected unanimously. They are:

John Sullivan, first vice-president; Mrs. Lorene Harding, second vice-president; Mrs. J. T. Nanney, secretary and Paul Kasnow, treasurer.

At the same time the new members of the board of directors and the organizations they represent were named.

They are:
Mrs. R. Ward Bushart, Twin Cities' Development Association; Mrs. J. T. Nanney, Fulton Woman's Club; Mrs. Lorene Harding, B & P; J. F. "Pete" Green, Elks Club; J. D. Parham, Civitan Club; John Sullivan, Lions Club; Harvey Johnson, Rotary Club; Dewey Johnson, Y. M. C. C.; Paul Kas-now, Retail Merchants Association; Hafford Milstead, American Legion; William Archer, South Fulton Boosters; Shelton Owens, Chamber of Commerce; Kenneth Stanley, Jaycees; Gilbert DeMyer, Mayor of Fulton; Rex Ruddle, Mayor of South Fulton.

Mrs. Bushart named the following advisors to the Board: Mrs. Maxwell McDade, Social Chairman; W. P. Burnette, Finance Chairman.

Mrs. Lorene Harding was named Chairman of the By-Laws Committee.

The board of directors has already begun to lay the foundation for the "Sensational Sixth" and looks forward to the same spirit of cooperation from the twin communities that has made previous festivals so successful.

Luchen Pulley Dies In "Death Curve" Collision

A head-on collision on the "Death Curve" of US Highway 51 four miles north of Fulton at approximately 12:10 Wednesday noon brought instant death to a Fultonian and injuries requiring hospitalization to two Florida men.

Luchen Pulley, approximately 55, was killed instantly when his 1968 Buick slammed head-on into a semi-trailer truck at the top of the treacherous overpass over the Illinois Central tracks on US 51. Pulley was traveling toward Fulton alone and the truck was northbound out of Florida with a load of produce.

Pulley was badly mangled in the wreckage of his car, and Whitel ambulance attendants, called to the scene, had difficulty removing his body from the vehicle.

William B. Thomas and Larry

Thompson, occupants of the truck and both residents of Florida, were taken to Hillview Hospital, where their injuries were undetermined as this paper went to press Wednesday.

Pulley, who resided at 214 Green Street in Fulton, is survived by his wife and eight children. He was employed by the Pure Milk Company as a bottling machine operator.

Arrangements are incomplete as this issue goes to press, but will be announced tomorrow by Whitel Funeral Home.

Parks Will Close December 23-26

Overnight accommodations, dining rooms, snack bars and all other facilities will be closed from noon Saturday, Dec. 23, to noon Tuesday, Dec. 26, at six State parks.

Closed for the Christmas holiday are these parks: Jenny Wiley at Prestonsburg; Kentucky Dam Village at Gilbertsville; Cumberland Falls at Corbin; General Butler at Carrollton; Natural Bridge at Slade, and Lake Cumberland at Jamestown.

"Closing the parks for this period will allow parks personnel to spend Christmas with their friends and families," Parks Commissioner Robert Gable said.

Carolers Sing Each Night At The Bandstand

Marshall Alexander Post No. 72 of the American Legion and the 40 & 8 are jointly sponsoring for the first time this year a program of "Carols for Christmas" each night this week at the band stand on Lake street. The public is cordially invited to come by and hear the beautiful Christmas music, being presented by different groups each night, at 8 p. m.

Various churches of the twin cities are cooperating with the sponsoring groups in providing the singers for the nightly occasions.

South Fulton Baptist singers will provide the carols for Thursday night.

Friday night singers from the First Methodist Church will present the program.

Highlighting the week's caroling will be the Twin City Sing-Out group, directed by Rev. Kimball Coburn of Water Valley.

Carols for Christmas has been presented by Legion groups in other cities and has proved a popular Christmas activity. It is hoped to make this an annual event of the holiday season.

Hirsch Employees Have Party At Reelfoot Lake

Employees of P. N. Hirsch and Company in South Fulton held their annual Christmas party on Thursday night, December 14, at Reelfoot Lake in the dining room of Gooch's Restaurant.

A delicious supper of cat-fish and country ham, with all the trimmings, was enjoyed by the following employees and their families:

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Bradley, Mrs. Juanita Brockwell, Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Corum, Mr. and Mrs. Rford Duke, Mr. and Mrs. Newton Ruddle and Eddie, Mrs. Sherry Sams and Mr. and Mrs. William Taylor and Steve.

HOME FOR THE HOLIDAYS
Lt. and Mrs. Hendon Wright and children, Hank and Wendy, arrived Tuesday night to spend the holidays with his parents Mr. and Mrs. Hendon Wright, and with Mr. Mrs. Harvey Caldwell and other Fulton relatives.

HOME FOR CHRISTMAS
Bob Anderson arrived in Fulton Monday from his studies at Tulane University in New Orleans to spend the Christmas holidays with his mother, Mrs. Mildred Anderson. Wayne, who teaches in Lafayette, La., will arrive the latter part of the week.

NEW ASSISTANT
James Apple, 29-year-old Paducah attorney, has been named administrative assistant to Gov. Louie Nunn, and will assume his new post on Friday.

White Christmas Here? Don't Expect It, Says Climatologist

Kentucky dreaming of a white Christmas may be in for a big disappointment. The odds are against it, University of Kentucky climatologist Allen B. Elam Jr. says.

Elam, weatherman for the Environmental Science Services Administration (ESSA) and the State Weather Bureau, adds that the probability of "a snowfall of any amount and/or a snow cover of any depth, is about a 20 per cent chance in the extreme western portions of the state, ranging up to 30 to 50 per cent in the north and east."

A White Christmas in Kentucky is a rare treat, state climatological records show. By white Christmas, the UK weatherman means "an inch or more of white stuff on the ground."

So far, records show a 10 to 30 per cent chance of that amount of snow cover on Dec. 25 in the state—

depending upon the location, Elam says. "In the past 18 years, only five Christmas days have had any significant snow cover."

Elam pointed out that all five cases have occurred in the last seven years. In 1960 and 1963, he said, there was an inch or more of snow cover over most of the state. In 1961 and 1962, the snow was limited chiefly to the south and/or southeast portions.

In December, 1966, snow fell over most of the state with the exception of the Blue Grass and the northwest sections.

"We have been talking about the chances of having a snow cover of some significance—an inch or more," Elam said. "If we include snowfalls amounting from a few flakes to less than one inch, the chances of snow are much greater."

Seniors Take ACT And SAT Exams

(From The FHS Kennel)

In the last few weeks several members of the senior class have been taking tests which will enable them to tell what kind of chance they have in college and in what course of study to major. Some of the students have received their results from the ACT test.

The SAT test is a test called the Scholastic Aptitude Test. It is given to many seniors all over the United States. All of these students are graded on their tests and based on an average scale. From this they can tell how they rank in Scholastic ability.

The ACT test is the test given by American College Testing. This is the same kind of test as the SAT and the scores are graphed in a similar fashion. Some of the students will wish to take this test at a later date. The test dates are as follows:

New York Times Singles Out Kentucky's Governor Breathitt For Intelligent, Provocative Programs

The states are the critical areas of American government today. For thirty-five years, in war and in peace, the Federal Government has expanded its power and dramatically redefined its role. Local units of government have reacted to the same pressures in remarkably different ways.

In some states, the counties are withering away; in Connecticut, they have been abolished altogether. Elsewhere, the counties have taken on executive and planning functions in an effort to provide metropolitan-wide government as suburbs have mushroomed in importance. Cities, big and small, have meanwhile leapedfrogged over the state governments, with their rural-dominated legislatures and their reactionary taxing policies, and have developed direct ties with the new bureaucracies in Washington.

Unless the states rehabilitate themselves as effective, functioning governments, there is little doubt about the direction that political development is going to take in this country in the decades ahead. Federalism will be radically transformed, and the national Government will deal directly with thousands of local jurisdictions. In such a relationship, Washington can only be the master and local governments the agents.

President Johnson, to his credit, has devoted considerable attention to Federal-state relationships. But the real impetus for reform can only come from the states themselves. The recent National Governors Conference provided encouraging evidence that this impetus is growing stronger.

Although the "three R's" — Governors Romney, Reagan and Rockefeller — who are in the Presidential spotlight naturally dominated the news, the more lasting significance of this meeting was the emergence of a large number of serious-minded Governors in both parties who take a sophisticated, almost professional attitude toward state problems. As recently as ten years ago, Governors' meetings discussed a few isolated issues such as traffic safety or the National Guard. This year's agenda included the strategy of state planning, regional and interstate cooperation, and states-and-urban problems. The staff studies and statistical analyses would do credit to any Federal agency.

The most provocative reports were those on regional and interstate cooperation prepared by a dozen Governors under the leadership of Gov. Edward T. Breathitt of Kentucky. Education, air and water pollution, transportation, and economic development are problems that do not respect state boundaries. States have to develop modes of political cooperation to adjust to the realities of a river basin, a regional air-shed or a redevelopment area such as Appalachia.

Terry Sanford, the able former Governor of North Carolina, has devoted the last two years to surveying the role of the states. His recently published book, "Storm Over The States" is at once a convincing demonstration of the usefulness of state governments, an indictment of their weaknesses, and an exhortation for further reform. All who care about the success of federalism can only hope that today's Governors and their successors persevere in the urgent tasks of innovation.

— N. Y. Times, Oct. 29, 1967

1967: The "Good Crop Year"

RECORD YIELDS — The year 1967 is apt to be remembered in Kentucky as "the good crop year." There have been other good years, or maybe better ones, in certain sections of the state, but it is hard to remember one where the season has been so generally good throughout the state as the one just ending. It was a good pasture year and pastures are going into the winter in excellent condition; there is plenty of hay and the largest corn harvest since 1948. Wheat, barley and oats produced record yields last spring. The state's soybean crop is estimated at 11 million bushels, 42 percent more than last year.

Corn is a good crop by which to judge the over-all weather conditions because it is grown in all parts of the state and it is very responsive to the whims of the weather during the critical growing season. The 1967 Kentucky corn yield is now forecast at a record 80 bushels per acre, up 11 bushels from the previous record of 69 bushels made in 1965.

This year's growing season compares favorably with that of 1948. That year's corn crop also broke all previous records. It made 41 bushels per acre, almost 6 bushels above any previous record. Going back still a few more years the poorest corn yield in Kentucky was in 1931, the year of the great drought, when practically no rain fell in the state after early May. That year the crop averaged only 10 bushels per acre.

The two largest corn crops on record in Kentucky were produced during World War I, in 1915 and 1917. In those pre-tractor days over 3.6 million Kentucky acres were plowed and cultivated with horses and mules. Yields well above the average of that period (24 bushels per acre) were produced and over 110 million bushels were harvested in each of the 2 years. This year's crop of 95 million bushels was harvested on less than 1.2 million acres.

BIG CROPS - LOW PRICES. Big crops and high prices seldom go together. The balance between supply and demand is pretty well balanced and a small surplus of a commodity can force the price down severely. Thus with big crops of corn, soybeans and other crops have come sharp drops in prices.

In agriculture the supply of "inputs" does not determine the "output" of production. Nature — the rainfall, sunshine, hail and wind, — elements over which man has little control, is the biggest influence in regulating the supply of farm crops.

POET'S CORNER

A VISIT FROM ST. NICHOLAS

'Twas the night before Christmas, when all through the house
Not a creature was stirring, not even a mouse;
The stockings were hung by the chimney with care,
In hopes that St. Nicholas soon would be there;
The children were nestled all snug in their beds,
While visions of sugar-plums danced in their heads;
And mamma in her kerchief, and I in my cap,
Had just settled our brains for a long winter's nap, —
When out on the lawn there arose such a clatter,
I sprang from my bed to see what was the matter.
Away to the window I flew like a flash,
Tore open the shutters and threw up the sash.
The moon on the breast of the new-fallen snow
Gave a lustre of midday to objects below;
When what to my wondering eyes should appear,
But a miniature sleigh and eight tiny reindeer,
With a little old driver, so lively and quick
I knew in a moment it must be St. Nick.
More rapid than eagles his coursers they came,
And he whistled and shouted, and called them by name:
"Now, Dasher! now, Dancer! now, Prancer and Vixen!
On, Comet! on Cupid! on Donner and Blitzen!
To the top of the porch, to the top of the wall;
Now dash away, dash away, dash away all!"
As dry leaves that before the wild hurricane fly,
When they meet with an obstacle, mount to the sky,
So up to the house-top the coursers they flew,
With a sleigh full of toys — and St. Nicholas, too.
And then in a twinkling I heard on the roof
The prancing and pawing of each little hoof.
As I drew in my head and was turning around,
Down the chimney St. Nicholas came with a bound.
He was dressed all in fur from his head to his foot,
And his clothes were all tarnished with ashes and soot;
A bundle of toys he had flung on his back,
And he looked like a pedlar just opening his pack.
His eyes, how they twinkled! his dimples, how merry!
His cheeks were like roses, his nose like a cherry;
His droll little mouth was drawn up like a bow,
And the beard on his chin was as white as the snow.
The stump of a pipe he held tight in his teeth,
And the smoke it encircled his head like a wreath.
He had a broad face and a little round belly
That shook when he laughed, like a bowl full of jelly.
He was chubby and plump — a right jolly old elf;
And I laughed when I saw him, in spite of myself.
A wink of his eye and a twist of his head
Soon gave me to know I had nothing to dread.
He spoke not a word, but went straight to his work,
And filled all the stockings; then turned with a jerk,
And, laying his finger aside of his nose,
And giving a nod, up the chimney he rose.
He sprang to his sleigh, to his team gave a whistle,
And away they all flew like the down on a thistle;
But I heard him exclaim, ere he drove out of sight,
"Happy Christmas to all, and to all a good-night!"

TEXT: "And she brought forth her first-born Son and laid him in a manger; for there was no room for them in the inn." Luke 2:7.

A Page From The Register of the Bethlehem Inn:

The inn in Bethlehem was not unlike the average small-town hotel of our own day. It was seldom filled except in an emergency. The occasion of our text was an emergency, for Augustus had taxed the world. Multitudes from all over had to return to their home city and village to pay these taxes and be enrolled. It was that Joseph and Mary were a part of this crowd who were hurrying to the city of David to register the fallen fortunes of the House of David.

So far as we know, there are no records extant of the inn. Except for the reference in our text, it would have remained in oblivion. Yet we cannot but wonder who occupied the prominent places in the inn that night, who crowded out The Son of God, The King of Kings. Let us turn prayerfully, with imagination, to the pages of the register and may they reveal the characters of those who were there on the night that Mary was sent across the courtyard to the

Santa's Rewards For The Year's Behavior Are Becoming Outlandish

The American toy industries have produced many splendid toys for children of all ages this Christmas season.

The greatest selling articles for girls this Christmas are the Barbie and Ken dolls with their assorted wardrobes. For a modest price anyone can purchase a Ken and Barbie doll, but let's face it, like anybody else they must keep up with the fashion trends. So during this year, parents will spend $128.00 for winter wardrobes to find that the fashions have changed and Ken and Barbie now need a complete spring outfit, which retails at $148.00.

Many smaller industries have caught on and are now offering preacher dolls for $31 to marry Ken and Barbie dolls. Also for realism, one can purchase witness dolls for a wedding at $27 each.

American industries are also appealing to little boys this Christmas by offering action dolls which can

State Parks Will Begin Booking 1968 Reservations

Kentucky's Department of Parks is preparing for a flood of requests early next month for choice accommodations next summer at the 13 State vacation parks.

Commissioner Robert Gable says all requests made by letter, postmarked Dec. 28 or later, will be honored on a first-come basis. Mail requests for summer accommodations will not be accepted before this date.

Telephone requests for the 1968 season will be accepted at all vacation parks beginning Jan. 1.

Vacation parks which are open year round (Jenny Wiley, General Butler, Cumberland Falls, Lake Cumberland, Kentucky Dam Village and Natural Bridge) are accepting phone reservation requests from 8 a. m. until 10 p. m. daily.

According to Gable, the Department's reservations service in Frankfort can accept early 1968 reservation requests beginning Jan. 2.

The number is (502) 223-2326. Toll-free calls may be made from these areas by dialing these numbers: Louisville, 583-9796; Lexington, 252-4913; and Covington-Cincinnati, 261-2643.

Opening dates for overnight accommodations in parks that close these facilities during the winter months are: Audubon, April 1; Buckhorn, May 1; Carter Caves, April 1; Kenlake, Feb. 2; Pennyroyal Forest, May 1; Pine Mountain, May 1; Rough River Dam, April 1; Housekeeping cottages at Cumberland Falls State Park will be open April 15.

FRANCE DETONATES BOMB

Paris — France has detonated its ninth atom bomb. The Defense Ministry said the blast was of "low yield variety." More tests are scheduled for later this summer, and the French government said it expects to test a hydrogen bomb in 1968.

Fulton High Band Members Attend Annual Music Festival At Murray

(From The FHS Kennel)

On Monday, Dec. 4, three of our band members and their director left the school at 8:00 en route to Murray State University. There they attended the twentieth annual QUAD STATE MUSIC FESTIVAL.

Those going from the Fulton band were Lady Rose Craddock—clarinet, senior division; Gary McBride—baritone, Joe Ed Harrison—Bass horn, junior division; and Mr. Brown.

Quad State is an annual event at Murray. It is made up of a series of three events each year. The first event is for choruses; the second event for bands from all over the Four-State area and the third for orchestras. At this time three or four members from each band are invited to attend. They are divided into two groups—Senior Band and Junior Band—according to their grade level.

The two bands met at 8:45 and began practicing for their concert for that night. Practice sessions went from 8:45 to 11:45. At 12:00 the directors attended the special Director's Complimentary Luncheon. At this time the students were set loose on the campus until 1:30. From then on they resumed their practice until 4:30. At 2:00 there was a clinic for directors conducted by Mr. Nilo Hovey. Then from 4:30 to 6:30 they were free to spend their time any way before the concert that night. During the day, besides the practice sessions, there was recreation in the Student Union and lots of "getting to know each other," and at 4:30 there was a concert held by the M. S. U. Woodwind Quintet.

At 7:00, after a full day's hard work in practice sessions, the two bands presented a concert. The Junior Band of 130 members was conducted by Professor Josiah Darnell, and the 170 piece Senior Band by Professor Paul Shahan. Selections played by the Junior Band were: A LITTLE BACH SUITE, THREE CLASSIC DANCES, THEME AND FINALE, VIVORANDA, and FOUR EPISODES FOR BAND. Those played by the Senior Band were: SUGAR BOWL, MARCH, FESTIVAL OVERTURE, THE FOUNTAIN HEAD—a piece composed by Mr. Shahan himself—JESU, JOY OF MAN'S DESIRING, and BOSS NOVA HOLIDAY.

To have representatives at Quad State is an honor not only for the student but for the school also. Fulton has always been represented at Murray's festivals but can't possibly continue unless it receives the support it so richly deserves. Support can be given in any number of ways—by new members, by better attendance and band functions, or merely a word of encouragement now and then. No one can really understand the joy and satisfaction of being a band member until he has practiced many weeks to achieve that special rating of Superior.

Deaths

Eph Dawes

Funeral services for Eph Dawes were held last Saturday, December 16, in Hornbeak Funeral Home chapel, with Rev. W. W. Kitterman, pastor of the Cumberland Presbyterian Church in Fulton, officiating. Burial was in Enon Cemetery.

Mr. Dawes, 68, died suddenly at his home on Valley Street, December 14. He was born in Fulton County, the son of the late Eph and Margaret Crawford Dawes, and was employed as a linotype operator by the Fulton Daily Leader for the past twenty-seven years. He founded the Fulton County News with his brother, Jim Dawes, in 1933 and sold out ten months later. He was a member of the Cumberland Presbyterian Church, serving on the board of deacons.

In 1935 he was married to the former Miss Lillie Cowell, who survives. Other survivors are four sons, Carl Dawes of Berea, Ky., Eph Dawes, Jr., and Charles Dawes of West Palm Beach, Fla., and Joe Dawes of Paducah; one brother, Jim Dawes of Fulton; one sister, Mrs. N. E. Thomas of Parkin, Ark., seven grandchildren, several nieces and nephews.

Mrs. Sanford Thomas

Mrs. Sanford Thomas died Sunday, December 17, in the Mayfield Hospital, following a short illness. Funeral services were held Tuesday, December 19, in the re-organized Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints at Tri-City, with Bro. C. L. Ross officiating. Burial was in Rhodes Cemetery. Jackson Funeral Home in Dukedom was in charge of arrangements.

Mrs. Thomas, 70, was born in Lynnville, Ky., the former Lela Bowlin, daughter of the late Brown and Susie Kennedy Bowlin. She and her husband resided in Lynnville. In addition to her husband, she is survived by two brothers, Basil Bowlin of Lynnville and Troy Bowlin of Lansing, Mich., three sisters, Mrs. Luby Page of Lynnville, Mrs. Irene Evans of Detroit, Mich., and Mrs. Otis Bennett of Taylor, Mich., several nieces and nephews.

Mrs. Vara Henley

Mrs. Vara Morgan Henley died in the Fuller-Gilliam Hospital at Mayfield last Saturday, December 16, following a brief illness.

Funeral services were held Tuesday, December 19, in Jackson Funeral Home chapel at Dukedom, with Rev. Joe F. McMinn and Rev. Kimbell Coburn officiating. Burial was in Pleasant Valley Cemetery.

Mrs. Henley, 78, widow of O. M. Henley of Water Valley, was born in Graves County, the daughter of the late George and Elizabeth Hughes Holland. Mr. Henley preceded her in death in 1962.

She was a member of the Water Valley Methodist Church.

Surviving are one son, Harold Morgan of Detroit, Mich.; two daughters, Mrs. Grace Mohler of Detroit and Mrs. Lucien Bledsoe of Charleston, S. C., several grandchildren and great-grandchildren.

Mrs. Rosa Clark

Funeral services for Mrs. Rosa Clark were held Tuesday morning, December 19, in Hornbeak Funeral Home chapel, with Rev. Julian Warren officiating. Burial was in Holifield Cemetery.

Mrs. Clark, 87, widow of Arthur Hampton Clark of Fulghum, died Sunday, December 17, in the Fulton Hospital after a week's illness. She was born in Graves County, the daughter of David and Susan Holifield Frazier. Her husband died in 1964.

Surviving are four sons, Noah Clark of Fulton, Elbert Clark of Clinton, Luther and Loyce Clark of Alton, Ill.; three sisters, Mrs. Maudie Richmond of Fulton, Mrs. Virgie Stairs of Mayfield and Mrs. Vivian Dew of Wingo; six grandchildren and thirteen great-grandchildren.

Hillview Nurses Entertain With Christmas Dinner

The nurses at Hillview Hospital held their annual Christmas dinner at the One And All Club Monday night, December 18.

The club was beautifully decorated for Christmas, with the Santa Claus theme used throughout the dining room. The dinner consisted of turkey and dressing, ham, and all the "trimmings."

Special guests were: Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Hales, Mr. and Mrs. Darrell Wilson, Dr. John W. Ragsdale, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Bill Jolley, Mr. and Mrs. Joe M. Workman, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Burnham, Mr. and Mrs. Don Snow, Mr. and Mrs. Maynard Weidenbach, Larry Wade and Mrs. Emma Butts. Mr. and Mrs. David Cruise joined the party after dinner.

Nurses and husbands attending were: Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Stewart, Mr. and Mrs. Pete Kelly, Mrs. Judy Adams, Virginia Austin, Alma Wade and Clara Mitcham.

A social hour with recorded music was enjoyed following the dinner.

Future Nurses Has Interesting Program

The Future Nurses Club met on November 22, 1967 in the Farm Room. The president, Roma Foster, opened the meeting and the secretary, Kay Mann, read the minutes of the last meeting. Roma then turned the meeting over to Mrs. Geri Braswell, who presented the program.

The program of the meeting was "Infant and Child Care." Mrs. Braswell's talk centered around the care of the infant and the young child. The Future Nurses learned that thumb-sucking in the early years of a child could later lead to nail biting. They also learned how to cope with some of the psychological problems of the young child and were given some baby-sitting tips which concerned the child's health.

The Future Nurses enjoyed this program very much and are looking forward to more programs on a variety of subjects.

FHA Committee Meets At FHS To Check Progress

The Degrees committee of F. C. H. S. Future Homemakers of America met in the home economics rooms to check progress on Junior degrees.

Some fifty freshman students in home economics are working on their Junior degrees. This degree is awarded to the students after they show evidence of growth in four areas, as an individual, as a home member, as a member of school and community, member of the chapter.

The members of the degrees committee are qualified to assist the freshman girls in that each of them has completed either the Junior or Chapter degree.

Members of the Degrees Committee working on Thursday in addition to the chapter advisers, Mrs. Carole Lattus and Mrs. King Davis were, Sandra McCollum chairman, Susan Taylor, Charlotte Nicholson, Mary Ruth Vincent, Nancy Parker, Vicki Harris, Janet Ballard, Norma Sutton, Cheryl Toombs, Pam Harris, Patricia Haney, Treva Caldwell, Donna Rupert.

As the work on Junior degrees progresses other meetings will be held, and each freshman girl is assigned to a member of the degree committee. Similar meetings will be held at chapter degrees at an early date.

Chestnut Glade Club Meets With Mrs. Rob Fowlkes

The holiday spirit really filled the air when the Chestnut Glade Home Demonstration Club met in the home of Mrs. Rob Fowlkes recently, with Mrs. Lucy Gibbs and Mrs. Ellen Brown hostesses, with one hundred percent of the members and three visitors present. Visitors were Mrs. Bill Smith, Mrs. Claud Williams and Mrs. James Palmer.

Christmas carols were sung by those present, directed by Mrs. W. C. Morrison. Each member contributed a poem, reading or story to the program. Mrs. Harvey Vaughan gave the devotion, using Luke 1-15. Gifts were exchanged, after which a delicious party plate and spiced tea were served.

The next meeting will be in the home of Mrs. V. C. Simpson on the third Thursday in January. Visitors are cordially invited.

Miss Fields Honored At Tea Sunday

Miss Mary Elizabeth Fields, whose marriage to Curtis R. Hancock, Jr., will be solemnized December 22, was the inspiration for a tea Sunday afternoon, December 17, at the home of Mrs. D. J. Murchison.

Greeting the guests were Mrs. Murchison, Miss Fields, Mrs. Clyde Fields and Mrs. Curtis Hancock, Sr. Miss Ginger Fields presided at the guest register.

Miss Fields was lovely in an emerald green velvet dress with a gift corsage of red and green. The hostess gift was four teaspoons in her chosen pattern.

The house was festively decorated for the Christmas season. The dining table was covered with a white cutwork cloth and centered with an arrangement of red poinsettias in an antique silver compote, flanked by burning red tapers in silver holders. Other silver appointments were used. Hot spiced tea and decorated cakes were served, with nuts and mints. Mrs. Wales Austin served at the table and was assisted by Miss Vicki Murchison.

Cayce WSCS Meets With Mrs. Linder

The Women's Society of Christian Service of the Cayce Methodist Church met in the home of Mrs. Clyde Linder recently with eighteen present.

The meeting was opened with soft organ music, and Mrs. Clyde Linder gave the devotion. The program was in charge of Mrs. Charles Linder, who read the Christmas story, with the members answering with hymns and carols.

A short business meeting was conducted by the president, after which the hostess served spiced cake, hot spiced tea and hot chocolate.

The January meeting will be held in the home of Mrs. Buford Bennett.

ENGLISH WORKSHOP

Mrs. Sharon Johnson, English, French, and reading teacher at Fulton High School, and Mrs. Brenda Fleming, sixth grade teacher at Carr Elementary School, were among 70 supervisors and teachers who attended a four day in-service workshop in Paducah recently to explore the advances made in the teaching of English for grades one through twelve.

WILLIAM PICKARD

Sports Spotlight

(From The FHS Kennel)

Is it a bird? Is it a plane? No, it is "Wonderful William." William Pickard that is, one of Fulton High's outstanding athletes.

During the 1967 football season Pickard showed great speed and determination as an offensive and defensive halfback. William was one of the Bulldog's leading ground gainers, which he accomplished by using his great speed that gave him the ability to go around on end sweeps and catching passes. Pickard gave his best performance this year against South Fulton by scoring all four of the Bulldog's touchdowns.

The Fulton High junior is a starting guard on this year's basketball team. His quick movements and good ball handling is an asset to the team. William has shown fine leadership while serving as co-captain of the team.

William is also one of the outstanding members of the track team. He runs dashes and long distance events.

To sum it up, William Pickard is indeed an outstanding athlete.

Canine Cut-Ups

(From The FHS Kennel)

Communication seems to be getting harder everyday for the students at FHS. Why, just the other day when office girl, Joy Jobe, came around announcing all seniors were to meet in the math room immediately, there was a terrible misunderstanding. Nobody realized it until Jimmy King came walking in late and breathlessly exclaimed, "What's everybody doing in here? Didn't you hear the announcement that all seniors are supposed to meet in the bathroom?" He also explained that he would have gotten there sooner but he couldn't decide which bathroom to go to.

I'm sorry all of you couldn't have seen the re-run of Tacky Day put on by the freshman FHA girls the other night at their installation. Those girls looked so awful that when we had supper, the freshmen had to eat in one room while the other FHA girls ate in another.

We found out a most astonishing fact at a recent pep rally. When asked how many boys were going steady, over fifteen FHS boys stood up, but when asked how many boys date just one girl, only two stood up. I think we girls had better take heed and check into this matter more closely!

If any of you ever have trouble remembering the time, don't fret. You can always rely on our faithful principal. The other day he knew it was somewhere around eleven o'clock without even looking at his watch. Could this be a new algebraic formula? No, Mr. Snider figured it this way: It had to be after 10:00 because he had coffee on his tie from the ten o'clock coffee break, but before twelve o'clock since his stomach was growling about every ten minutes.

THE PARSON SPEAKS

O, look, here is the name of a noted governor. He had just arrived from a distant province. Yes, he was a Bethlehem boy who made good. His young manhood had been devoted to a political life in the great centers of the world. He was welcomed with acclaim and given the chief rooms. But angels from the battlements of heaven, ready to descend to the Judean hills, looked in wonder, for this political figure was not to blame. He was unconscious of the majesty of the One in the manger.

Today's political program is like this man. It is not wrong in itself. There is a great need for righteous men in political life, but the Lord Jesus is being crowded out. Within recent years we have heard both the Republican and Democratic candidates for President repeatedly address thirty million people over TV and radio, yet we have heard neither offer Christ his place nor even speak his name. He is not recognized. Our modern systems are in danger of being regarded with scorn and suspicion.

And look at this next name, a noted educator. A good man, member of the Sanhedrin. A prominent professor in the University at Jerusalem. Yet he must register at Bethlehem. When he arrived at the inn he was given the next best room. He represents the wisdom of the world, but the room he occupied really belonged to the Lord and his family.

One of the most insidious dangers throughout history has been the crowding out of Jesus Christ from our educational systems. It is a well known fact that a large portion of those who enter our universities with Christian beliefs lose them before graduation. The Bible is not read in our schools today, while emphasizing the much good it contains, the best text book is left out. Paul writes to the Corinthians, "For after that in the wisdom of God the world by wisdom knew not God, it pleased God by the foolishness of preaching to save them that believed." The highest science and knowledge is met in the person of the Son of God, of whom it was said, "His name shall be called wonderful."

O, yes, here is the name of a great social leader. He is a man of great wealth. He has lived in the greatest cities of the world, even now he has been called back from Athens to the city of his birth that he might be enrolled and pay his taxes. He also occupied a complete suite with his friends. Yet his only claim to immortality, as we study history, is the record of his name here. His great wealth and social prominence were not sufficient to give his name to history. Yes, the Savior could have used his room.

Glance at this name if you will, a world famous business man from Rome. He is the most vital character of all, his trademarks are known to the uttermost parts of the world. To him it is a great sacrifice and a waste of time to return to a little sleepy town like Bethlehem. But it is the law, and he must do it. He, too, gets a place that could have prevented the Savior from being born in a manger.

He represents the great section of the business world of today that regards religion as impractical and believes only in things that are material. I venture to say that the great economic depressions we have witnessed would not have been had not the business man taken the place of Christ. There is no doubt that it was, and is, a spiritual problem. There is need of recognition of Christ in business all over the world from the smallest to the largest. And no new proposed panacea for our ills will succeed, call it by any name you will, which does not recognize the Christ and the teachings of the scripture.

Thirty years later the Bethlehem babe, speaking with quiet authority on a Judean hillside, said to the world of business, "Seek ye first the Kingdom of God and his righteousness, and all these things shall be added unto you."

Should he be admitted into the sphere of politics, education, society and commerce, after nineteen centuries of waiting, his teaching would effect revolutionary changes and perhaps help to dim the tragedy of the story on the register of the Bethlehem inn.

LETTERS TO SANTA

GARDNER'S STUDIO

— Commercial Avenue —

Harken Claus,

It is that time of year again and there are many things needed at FHS. In fact we need so many things we sent this letter a month early so that you could fulfill our requests. Despite the propaganda put out by the Great Pumpkin, we here at FHS remind you that it is you and only you that has our hearts and also our presents. Here is our list. Please try to fill the requests.

Thank you,
Student Body

P. S. Instead of Jack-O-Lanterns for Halloween we had Sant-O-Lanterns and also smashed all the pumpkins in the area.

LIST

For study hall we would like a tangerine orange carpet with a blue bulldog in the center.

For Mrs. Bennett's English classes we need reclining seats. For chemistry we need a television instead of a teacher.

A faster way to the cafeteria. An antique dealer to buy FHS.

No censorship in our library. A new sled for the football team (oiled).

A waitress in the cafeteria. Report cards to be lost in the files and never found.

A new plaster job in the study hall ceiling. Help.

A year's supply of themes for 6th hour study hall.

Please send Mr. Brown a sign that says, "It is true that blonds have more fun!"

Please send Coach McCann a set of aluminum weights.

Please send Jimmy King and Mr. Robertson the book, A Hundred Best Lies About Hunting.

Please send Mr. Milner a new set of frogs as the old ones are "rank."

Please send Mrs. Gathers an automatic eraser pitching machine. The original blue prints of FHS.

For the study hall desks we need a stereo tape console placed in each one.

A Merry Christmas!

Dear Santa,

We feel that the students of Fulton High have been very cooperative with the rules and responsibilities that have been enforced on us. Now that you understand, we want to tell you that we have been discriminated against by our selfish faculty. When you come to see our schools Christmas Eve you will see their plush carpet and luxuries. Santa, we want just a few little conveniences that the teachers have. First of all we would like a psychodelic print carpet which is a foot thick. Then we would like padded seats, and some new modern pictures. If you could arrange it, we would like to have a refreshment bar and have a break in the morning for an hour. Oh, incidentally we would also like to have a couple of escalators. Those steps get to be murder by sixth period. This would be a benefit to both teachers and students, especially for Mrs. Cardwell. Santa, would you please bring Mr. Snider a padded paddle board for the Senior boys? Now since we have been so good we would like to have MOST OF ALL a few copies of our semester tests.

WARNING: Please don't land over the study hall ceiling or you may be dropping in to see us sooner than you think.

Thank you ever so much.
All our love,
5 deprived creative writing students

Dear Santa,

How are you doing this year? I am just fine! It has been a long time since you came to see me last. I have been writing you four years now and I want you to bring me everything you have not brought me in the past. I would like you to bring our new Principal, Mr. Snider, a cowboy belt to remind us of Mr. Martin. Now getting back to me I would like to have a new car, electric train, dump truck, two live dolls, new seats in study hall, some new girls in Fulton High and please bring Teddy a new girl friend.

Your friend,
Red Bird

Dear Santa,

We are three very unselfish, little boys, who would like to see our teachers happy on Christmas. We hope that you will grant the following modest requests.

Please bring Mrs. Robertson some fresh plaster so her light fixtures will hold to the ceiling and to Mr. Robertson please bring a new radar device that will detect the smallest whisper in first hour study hall. Santa, please find some well qualified C. I. A. men who will roam the halls for Mrs. Bennett during third and fifth hour English classes.

Mr. Milner would like one of your latest models of computers to calculate the number of insects captured each fall by the biology class.

Please bring Mrs. Johnson a new French class with the ability to pronounce, and Mrs. Steele needs a processing machine which will save her from processing so many books each year.

Mr. Brown's last coat of summer blonde is wearing off and he would like a new box.

As for Mrs. Gathers, please bring her a pair of orange fish net hose to go with her thoroughly mod dress. Coach McCann wishes for Mrs. DeMyer to come back and take over second hour study hall, as he has a hard time controlling the sophomore girls.

Mr. Bushart has had his eye on a big red fire truck that runs on batteries. Please don't disappoint him, Santa.

Mrs. Cardwell is having a problem with a sore throat, and would like a megaphone, so that she will be able to make the students in the back of the room hear her.

Mrs. DeMyer is in need of a new full length mirror of her own because the sophomore girls have taken over the one in Home Ec. room.

As for the students of FHS,

Complete Roof
Planned Protection
See us for . . .

Rice Agency
Fulton 472-1341

please bring them some outdoor-indoor carpet for the halls, that will match the carpet in the teachers' lounge. The students would also like piped-in music, because it is unfair that the office has this luxury and the classrooms do not.

Please bring Mr. Snider a new book of prose and an intercom system so that his quotes will be more effective.

Thank you, Santa,
T. D., D. J., and S. F.

Dear Santa,

Well how is the little round man in the little red coat doing this year? As usual, we have been our typical mischievous selves and are really entitled to nothing more than an educated swat across our posteriors. Please do not feel that we are being too self-centered in asking for these Christmas gifts, but let us assure you that they are for the improvement of things both living and non-living in Fulton High School.

First of all, we'd like a totally rebuilt building in which to attend classes. Our reason for this is that it gets rather monotonous having plaster fall on your head everytime you sit down. Next, we'd like for you to bring a cowboy belt for Mr. Snider because our school seems to be lacking without our beloved principal standing around with a Gene Autry original holding his Levis up.

And now for the students of FHS please bring Ed. "Fireplug" Williamson a can of Martin Senour Genuine Florescent Red Paint because since his color is fading, the dogs have trouble finding him in the dark. Jimmy King needs a new duck call because Mrs. Cardwell confiscated his other one. David Winston wants a year's supply of paper measuring 1/2 inch by 3 inches and a 19/20 size pencil with an ultra-microscopic point so he can write easier in a small space with less effort.

Last, just bring the seniors a piece of paper rolled and tied with a ribbon so that we may exit this place.

See you later,
Mike

Fortunately, the students absent from this picture did survive the Carborundum tour. The first group of students pose here before heading back to school.

Physics And Chemistry Students Take Field Trip To Carborundum

(From The FHS Kennel)

The chemistry and physics students toured the Carborundum Plant at Hickman, Kentucky, on December 5. Mr. Snider, Mr. Bushart, Mr. Milner, Mrs. J. A. Poe, Mrs. Fred Homra, Mrs. Bobby Caldwell, Mrs. Bill McCarthy and Mrs. G. F. Bushart drove the students, leaving FHS at 12:30 P. M.

Upon arrival a short talk was given by Mrs. Bob Powell, the plant manager. He explained that at this specific plant electrodes and anodes of crystalline graphite are made. These electrodes, he further explained, are used in the steel industry. The electrodes can stand intense heat with which scrap metal is melted down and made into steel. Another Carborundum plant near Niagara, New York, makes seat covers for Cadillacs which can be heated.

The group of about 50 students was divided into two sections. The guide of the tour was Mr. Dickie Gossum, a former FHS teacher. After being warned not to touch anything, the members of the group were instructed to wear miners' helmets and special goggles.

Mr. Danny Shelton, a student teacher at FHS last year, explained how all the materials at the plant are checked to a high degree of accuracy. The electrodes of carbon are baked for 17 days in huge ovens. Perfectly round sand from Ottawa, Canada, and sawdust are used to pack the electrodes. This takes care of the expansion due to solidification as temperatures up to 3000 degrees Centigrade are reached, and keeps the oven from exploding. Each oven is torn down after two weeks of cooling and the electrodes are removed while they are "cherry red" with heat.

The entire plant maintains all its own machinery in a special building. The whole plant is a complex of six buildings including mixing, baking, maintenance, general office, final products and graphalloying.

The students all appreciated the opportunity to go to the plant and the cooperation of the parents. Everyone enjoyed the trip while they learned something of the properties of carbon and graphite.

Tree Decorated By FHA For Holiday

(From The FHS Kennel)

Christmas spirit is brought forth every year at FHS when the annual Xmas tree is placed in the study hall. The FHA Chapter sponsors this tree, giving the Sophomore home economics students the pleasure of decorating it.

All students are asked to place canned food under this tree. The food collected is given to the Jaycees for distribution among the needy.

Christmas time is the special season when all people think of those less fortunate than themselves. By only bringing food for the tree, students here can make another person's Christmas as happy as their own.

The FHA Christmas meeting December 20 will be mainly a time for refreshments and safety. Mrs. Henry Underwood is invited to entertain with lovely piano selections of Christmas music.

All chapter mothers are invited including Mrs. L. M. McBride, past chapter mother. The whole chapter will be led in singing and recreation.

Punch and cookies will be served to all.

DUKEDOM NEWS

Mrs. Hillman Westbrook

The Dukedom Methodist Church was the place for the double ring ceremony which united Linda Susan Davidson and Robert Harold Simpson on December 10th at four o'clock in the afternoon. The church was beautifully decorated with greenery, candles and baskets of white gladioli. Mr. A. A. McGuire, magistrate, performed the rites. Maid of honor was Sandra Gae Marr and best man was Harry Austin. Kevin Davidson, brother of the bride, served as usher and Laura Ann Davidson, sister of the bride, was flower girl. A cousin of the groom, Greg Copeland, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Copeland of Martin, was the ring bearer. Nancy Bowlin of Dresden, accompanied by Mrs. Travis Dacus at the piano, sang. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bennett Davidson of Dukedom and is a senior at Dresden High School. The groom is a nephew of Mr. and Mrs. Cloy Puckett of Palmersville and is employed at the Milan Arsenal. Presently they are living with Mr. and Mrs. Bennett Davidson.

Donald Hastings is in Hillview Hospital at Fulton for tests and treatment.

Good Springs CPW met at the home of Mrs. Hillman Westbrook for the December meeting, with eight members present. Mrs. Thomas Bruce, president, conducted the business session and the Presbyterian apportionment for 1968 was accepted by the group. Plans for an all-day officers' training meeting will be held on January 11 at the home of Mrs. Lewis Cole. "Gift for the King" proceeds will be used this year to further the rebuilding of the church. Mrs. T. L. Ainsley presented the program from the topic "What We Mean When We Say, I Believe In The Incarnation." She was assisted by Mrs. Bruce, Mrs. Westbrook and Mrs. Winnie Cunningham. Mrs. Terry Bethel and Mrs. Ray Bruce gave a dialogue on "Why It's Wrong To Lock Up Jesus On December 25," which was enjoyed very much.

Ricky Bailey, who has been stationed at Great Lakes Naval Base, will spend the holidays with family, Mr. and Mrs. Garrett Bailey, in Detroit and on from there to Chelsea, Mass.

Sympathy is extended to the family of Carl Darnon, who passed

Christmas Lives In Bethlehem, Ky. In Live Tableaux

Residents of Bethlehem, Ky. have a very special way of celebrating the anniversary of the birth of Christ. It's their "Living Nativity" tableau of the first Christmas and this is its seventh straight year.

Everything about the presentation is living except a doll which is used for the infant in the manger. The scene of Mary and Joseph tending their wondrous babe includes the adoring Magi, shepherds and angels, backed with farm animals keeping a quiet watch. The cast of the presentation is clothed in flowing costumes of early Biblical times. The scene is further enhanced by soft music and lights. On Christmas Eve and Christmas Night, young people of the community gather at the site to sing carols and hymns.

The production is an outgrowth of the village churches' search in 1960 for a community Christmas project. Each year the men of the three congregations build the stable for the scene on a vacant lot near the post office. Animals used are loaned by local farmers.

Mrs. Lee Peyton has been postmistress at Bethlehem for 31 years. She does a brisk business each Christmas forwarding mail for people from every state and from several foreign countries. In addition to the Bethlehem cancellation stamp she imprints each envelope with a stamp showing the Magi following the Star. She'll forward more than 60,000 items this year.

Visitors from all over flock to view the tableau which begins at 6:30 each night, from December 22 through Christmas Night. There is no admission charge for this is the small town's gift to its visitors. Bethlehem is on Ky-22, about 45 miles from Louisville and about 80 miles from Cincinnati.

away last week. He was well-known among the singers in Weakley County.

Good Springs expresses thanks to the Dukedom Methodist Church for the use of their building each Sunday afternoon from 1 to 3 for church school and worship service. Trouble is eased by friends' help.

1967-'68 Bulldog Club Is Announced In Assembly Program By McCann

The 1967-'68 Bulldog Club has been announced by Coach McCann. In order to be in the Bulldog Club one must earn three letters in one major sport or two letters in two major sports. The new members announced are David Dunn, David Forrest, Dennis Lohaus, Max Omar, Jimmy Treas and Eddie G. Williamson. Returning to the Bulldog Club as the only old member is Avery Hancock.

Those receiving football letters for the 1967 season are Seniors: Jimmy Treas, Eddie Williamson,

Eakin never, ever fail in the devotion to their assignments.

Besides making it possible for us to put out a prize-winning newspaper, we consider these wonderful people our close personal friends first; inexorably such an association will bring about incomparably pleasant working conditions.

At this season of the year we say "thanks" to them in more ways than we can ever express. Joe Weeks and Gordon Baird have been our associates almost since we came to Fulton. T. C. Taylor we have known almost as long, but whose tenure here is just a little shorter than the other two.

Its a mighty good arrangement we have as we embark on our twenty-first year of publishing in Fulton.

COMING AND GOING!

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Noble, of Coral Gables, Fla., will arrive in Fulton today (Thursday) to visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Baird. Later in the week the Bairds and the Nobles will motor to Nashville, where they will visit with Mr. and Mrs. John D. Donahay. Mrs. Donahay is a granddaughter of the Bairds.

AUSTIN SPRINGS

By Mrs. Carey Fields

Bobby Rickman, a junior at U. T. Knoxville, arrived home Wednesday night to spend the Christmas holidays with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Rickman, and grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Grover True.

Rev. Russell Rogers filled his regular appointment at New Salem Baptist Church the past Sunday at 11 a. m. and at the evening service, preceding the B. T. U. meeting.

Grant Bynum shows no sign of improvement over the past several days and is not resting so well at this writing.

Buton Lassiter visited his sister, Mrs. Roy Hammett, and Mr. Hammett the past Sunday afternoon on the Paris-Hollow Rock road.

Farmers are very busy cleaning and stripping their dark-furred tobacco during the warm, rainy season and hope to have it ready for market as soon as the sales begin.

Miss Gloria Bynum and Mr. Larry Hawks pledged their marriage vows at New Salem Baptist Church at three o'clock in the afternoon on Saturday, December sixteenth.

The church was beautifully decorated with arrangements of white chrysanthemums, holly and a candleabra holding tall candles. The decorating was done by Mrs. C. E. Simmons of Jackson, Tenn., a cousin of the bride.

A program of nuptial music was presented by Mrs. T. G. Davis, pianist, who also used the traditional wedding marches.

Rev. Ben Bowlin officiated at the double ring ceremony, in the presence of many relatives and friends. Hal Bynum, brother of the bride, and Mark Gardner of Mayfield lighted the candles.

The bride was lovely in a white floor-length formal wedding gown, hand made by her cousin, Mrs. C. E. Simmons, and her aunt, Miss Margaret Bynum.

Miss Julia Hawks, sister of the groom, was maid of honor and bridesmaids were Miss Sammie Jane Bynum and Miss Elizabeth Bynum, cousins of the bride. All of them wore gowns of red velvet.

Gary Hawks, brother of the groom, served as best man. Groomsmen were Velva Hawks, Jr., cousin of the groom and Danny Gardner of Mayfield and Seldon Cashon, cousin of the groom, was usher.

Hal Bynum, brother of the bride, was ring bearer and Melanie Laws served as flower girl.

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was held in the home of the parents of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Bynum, which was decorated in Christmas colors. The bride's table was covered with a red satin cloth, overlaid with white lace. The central appointment was an arrangement of poinsettias and holly and a three-tiered wedding cake.

After the reception the couple left for a short wedding trip, after which they will be at home to their friends. Mr. Hawks will resume his studies at U. T. Martin, majoring in agriculture, and Mrs. Hawks will return to work in Martin.

To the staff at the Fulton County News, all readers and friends a Merry Christmas and a Happy and Prosperous New Year.

THE POTTER'S FIRST CHRISTMAS IN BETHLEHEM

By Harriet Frye

The winter has come, and the winds;
The trees are as bare as the thorn.
And over the way, in a manger,
We are told that a child has been born.

He lies among cattle and oxen,
And shepherds have brought him their lambs.
Perhaps I shall make him a bright new pot
All painted with donkeys and rams.

The dawn of a morning in winter
Is filled with a mother's light laughter.
Our children will call this day Christmas,
And so men will call it thereafter.

We stand, while our minds are on winter,
Looking out on a pink-and-red morn.
And over the way, in a manger,
We are told that a child has been born.

May your Christmas
be filled with much love and laughter.

Symsonia 69,
Wingo 45

WINGO, Ky. — Symsonia vaulted to a 69-45 victory over the Wingo Indians here with four Rough Riders scoring in the double figures.

Steve Woodson, Truman Bell and Roger Emery shared scoring honors for the winning Rough Riders with 16 points each. Danny Hicks was just a shade behind with 15 markers.

The sharp-shooting Rough Riders blasted Wingo's zone defense in the first half, forcing the host Indians to switch to a man-to-man during the final two periods.

Bill Ingram was Wingo's top scorer with 12 points. Ronnie Wiggins, a sophomore, scored 9 and pulled down 19 rebounds for the Tribe.

The victory boosted Symsonia's mark for the season to 5-6, and left the Indians with a 1-8 record.

FIRST AND SECOND FAMILIES AT INAUGURATION—Just before taking the oath of their offices, Governor Louie B. Nunn and Lieutenant Governor Wendell Ford review the inaugural parade with their families at Frankfort. At left are the Nunn's, Stephen, 15; Jennie Lou, 16; Mrs. Nunn and the Governor. The Fords are the Lieutenant Governor; Mrs. Ford; Shirley, 17, and Steven, 13.

Nunn Retains 8 More Aides Of Breathitt

By WILLIAM BRADFORD
FRANKFORT, Ky. — Gov. Louie B. Nunn announced Thursday he was retaining eight more of former Gov. Edward T. Breathitt's cabinet officers, at least for a "transition period."

Sworn in while Nunn was holding a news conference were Librarian Margaret Willis and commissioners Leslie Dawson, Economic Security; Dr. Dale Farabee, Mental Health; Maurice Harmon, Child Welfare; J. O. Matlick, Natural Resources; Ambrose Mandt, Mines and Minerals; Dr. Russell Teague, Health; and Sture Westberg, Corrections.

Also reappointed was Elmore C. Grim, director of reclamation in the Natural Resources Department.

James E. Luckett, Breathitt's revenue commissioner, already had been reappointed by Nunn.

Although noting that the commissioners had agreed to stay on in order to "have a more orderly transition," Nunn also said they "have been very considerate and won't be removed for the sake of removing."

Nunn said he had pledged his cooperation to the reappointed cabinet officers and that he expected they would serve on the same basis as his other appointees.

Other commissioners may be reappointed as well, Nunn said, as soon as he determined their status.

"I understand some commissioners are not in their offices, although they should be," he said.

These persons have not resigned, Nunn said, so it was his understanding they should remain at their posts until Dec. 31.

Nunn said the state Reclamation Commission had briefed him earlier in the day on two new regulations it recently adopted and on litigation pending that is seeking to block their enforcement.

He said the commission would continue to operate as it has in the past until the matter is resolved in the courts.

A hearing will be held in Franklin Circuit Court Friday on a motion to dissolve a restraining order against enforcement of the regulations.

Both regulations were adopted Monday, the last day of former

Gov. Edward T. Breathitt's administration. One of these was by emergency order, which put it into effect immediately.

On other matters, some of them economy-oriented, Nunn said:

—No out of state travel would be allowed unless approved in advance by the finance commissioner.

—Department heads have been directed to use left-over stationery from the Breathitt administration for in-state correspondence. Nunn's name or those of new commissioners would be typed in.

—All state motor vehicles, except those used for investigative purposes, would have a state seal affixed on both sides along with the department to which it

NEWS OF SELECTIVE SERVICE

Q.-After reading the SSS Form 104 I refuse to sign it. If I submit a letter requesting a student deferment, will I be granted a II-S (student) classification?

A.-The law requires an undergraduate student to make a written request to his local board before he can be considered for a student deferment. SSS Form 104 has been prepared for the convenience of the registrant for making the request. In lieu of the SSS Form 104, the registrant may make a written request over his signature to meet the minimum requirements of the law.

Q.-Is it true that it would be to my advantage, time wise, if I am appealing my classification, to submit my written notice of appeal at the latest time before the appeal period expires - this procedure giving me the benefit of a few extra days or weeks?

A.-The law permits the registrant to submit an appeal within 30 days after he is mailed a Notice of Classification.

Fudge Is For Feasting!

When it comes to homemade candy—creamy-smooth chocolate fudge is the all-time favorite! Perfect creamy-smoothness is assured in all candies when evaporated milk, the double-rich whole milk concentrate is used in the making. This streamlined recipe requires no thermometer and the basic syrup cooks in minutes. It's best to make a batch at a time, which poses no problem since it is speedily prepared. So for family feasting throughout the holidays—and as a special remembrance for friends and neighbors—make batches and batches of this real chocolatey, creamy fudge.

Quick and Easy Fudge

2 cups sugar 1 1/2 cups (9 oz.) semi-sweet chocolate pieces
3 tablespoons butter 1 teaspoon vanilla
1/4 teaspoon salt 2/3 cup chopped pecans
1 cup evaporated milk
1/2 cup miniature marshmallows

In a 2 or 3-quart saucepan combine sugar, butter, salt and evaporated milk. Stirring constantly, bring mixture to a full rolling boil over medium heat. Continue boiling and stirring for a full 5 minutes. Remove from heat. Add marshmallows, chocolate, vanilla and pecans. Stir vigorously or beat with spoon until marshmallows and chocolate are melted and smoothly blended. Turn into buttered 8-inch square pan. When candy is cold, cut into squares. Makes about 2 pounds.

Glazed Carrots Shine

Glaze a vegetable to give it eye appeal and an appetizing flavor. To glaze cooked vegetables in the oven pour dark corn syrup over the vegetable, dot with margarine and bake at 400 degrees 15 minutes. To cook and glaze fresh carrots top stove dissolve a chicken bouillon cube in 1 cup of boiling water. Pour in about 1/4 cup light corn syrup; add a pat of margarine with 1 pound fresh carrots, cut into small sticks. Cover and cook over medium heat 10 minutes. Uncover and cook about 10 minutes longer or until carrots are tender and glazed and liquid is reduced. Makes 3 to 4 servings.

TWO MINUTES

WITH THE BIBLE

BY CORNELIUS R. STAM, PRES.
BEREAN BIBLE SOCIETY
CHICAGO, ILLINOIS 60635

PEACE ON EARTH?

When Christ was born of Mary, the angels praised God and sang: "Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace, good will toward men" (Luke 2:14).

This glad carol of the angels seems farther from the truth today than it ever was, and as a result many have become cynical and have concluded that the Bible is not true; that the angel's song was but a pleasant, hopeful thought. Those who feel this way don't know their Bibles very well, though, or they would know why we have such unrest today, instead of peace.

Our Lord was indeed the long-promised King, through whom His people and the whole world were to enjoy peace and true prosperity. John the Baptist appeared as the King's herald. The twelve apostles went forth "preaching the gospel of the kingdom" (Matt. 4:23). The four Gospel records are filled with proofs and demonstrations of Christ's royal rights. But the King was rejected, as God has prophesied He would be at His first advent (1 Pet. 1:11). Over His cross Pilate placed a sign, saying: "This is Jesus, the King of the Jews." Today, then, the King is a royal exile from the world over which He should be reigning.

Is it strange, then, that we do not yet enjoy peace on earth? The second Psalm describes the folly of the nations and their rulers in ignoring this basic fact and predicts that God will laugh, as it were, at their derision as they seek to run the world without His Son.

Thank God, this period of Christ's rejection is also a wonderful period of grace. When sin had risen to its height, God saved Saul of Tarsus, the leader of the world's rebellion against Christ, and sent him forth to proclaim "the gospel of the grace of God" (Acts 20:24) the good news that "Christ died for our sins," and that any sinner may be reconciled to God by faith in Christ. This is why the Bible calls the divine administration under which we are living "the dispensation of the grace of God" (Eph. 3:2). So, while "peace on earth" awaits a future day, we may now have "peace with God, through our Lord Jesus Christ" (Rom. 5:1).

Trees Live and Bloom—In Legends of Yuletide
Almost every kind of tree has a legend relating it to the Nativity or the life of Christ. The cherry tree, says "The Cherry Tree Carol," bent down its boughs for Mary to pluck the fruit.

The Glastonbury Thorn blooms at Christmas because, legend says, St. Joseph of Arimathea, on his arrival in England, drove his staff into the ground, while he was carrying the Holy Grail, the chalice used at the last supper. The staff took root and grew into a thorn tree.

Honoring Christmas, In Poetry and Prose

"I will honor Christmas in my heart, and try to keep it all year."
So wrote Charles Dickens, for whom Christmas was a favorite topic — so much so that most people, asked to name someone who wrote about Christmas, would immediately answer, "Dickens."
Not only Dickens, but almost every writer, from the little-known to the famous, has been inspired at some time in his career to "honor Christmas" in prose or poetry. For instance —
At Christmas I no more desire a rose
Than wish a snow in May's new-fangled mirth.
But like of each thing that in season grows.
William Shakespeare
At Christmas play and make good cheer,
For Christmas comes but once a year.
Thomas Tusser
For somehow, not only at Christmas, but all the long year through,
The joy that you give to others is the joy that comes back to you.
John Greenleaf Whittier
England was merry England, when
Old Christmas brought his sports again.
Sir Walter Scott
I heard the bells on Christmas Day
Their old familiar carols play,
And soft and sweet the words repeat,
"God is not dead, nor doth he sleep."
Henry Wadsworth Longfellow
So shall we learn to understand
The simple faith of shepherds then,
And clasping kindly hand in hand,
Sing, "Peace on earth, good will to men!"
James Russell Lowell
"Happy Christmas to all,
and to all a good-night."
Clement Clarke Moore

In Turkey
A unique holiday tradition in Turkey requires the head of the church to throw a wooden cross into the Bosphorus. On Christmas Day, three boys dive after it.
The finder takes the cross from house to house and receives in return food and gifts from those who are allowed to see the cross.
In Norway
The Norwegian Christmas traditionally starts six months before December 24th. The celebration itself lasts three weeks. The period is known as the Julafrid, or the Peace of Christmas.

THE SAND PEBBLES

Santa His White Beard, Red Suit Are Recent Garb

Genial, jovial, red-cheeked and white-bearded. As any child can tell you, that's how Santa Claus looks.
But the benevolent giver of presents has not always been pictured like this, nor has he always traveled by sleigh or brought his gifts on Christmas Eve. In fact, he has not always been named Santa Claus!
"Santa Claus" is in truth a child's euphonic way of expressing the Dutch "Saint Nikolaas," or St. Nicholas, says The Encyclopedia Americana.
St. Nicholas, a fourth-century bishop, was later honored, in Europe, as a friend to children. Legend finds him making his rounds on December 5th, the eve of St. Nicholas Day, with gifts to reward children for good behavior.
Instead of a jolly red suit, St. Nicholas wore a robe, or tabard, and for that reason he really didn't need a sleigh, or even a horse. His robe enabled him to travel from place to place, instantly.
In Holland, however, he was said to use a horse for his journey at night over the roofs.
Dutch settlers brought St. Nicholas to the New World, where he gradually changed his name to Santa Claus and traded his horse and robe for reindeer and a red suit.
It was Clement C. Moore, in his poem "A Visit from St. Nicholas," who made Santa into a jolly elf "Saint Nick," who rides "in a miniature sleigh drawn by eight tiny reindeer."
In more recent years, St. Nicholas in his new guise as Santa Claus has journeyed to many parts of the world, becoming the most widely known of gift givers.

In Iceland
Since trees are scarce in Iceland, families must use their ingenuity in creating a Christmas tree. A pole with branches of greenery tied to it is the solution in many Icelandic homes. And the valuable real trees are saved for industrial use.

'Twas the night before Christmas and all through the yard
Not a creature was stirring—not even the guard.
My socks were stuffed in my shoes to save space,
And alas—in my tent there was no fireplace.

My friends in their shorts and me in my shoes,
Had just settled down for a tropical snooze.
When out in the area there arose such a clatter,
That I sprang from my cot to see what was the matter.

I became so entangled in my mosquito net,
That if no one had helped me, I would be there yet.
And then very cautiously I pulled back the flaps,
Expecting to see a battalion of Japs.

But to my amazement I saw there instead,
The famous St. Nicholas in his suit of bright red.
He sat in his sled, which was pulled by six jeeps,
As they bounced along gaily in short bounds and leaps.

Then they came to a halt and away Santa went,
And very suddenly there he was in my tent.
He was chuckling so merrily, that his fat little belly,
Just like the poem was shaking like jelly.

And then as I wondered, I was sure t'was a gag,
When I noticed his pack was an old barracks bag.
Then he reached in his bag and without hesitation,
Turned to my tentmate with a pack of "K" rations.

He dug in again and came up with some span,
"C" rations aplenty and bully beef ham.
He followed them quickly with dehydrated potatoes,
And then he reached in for a can of tomatoes.

And then he remarked there was work he must do,
So he raised a plump finger and away he flew.
I dashed to the tent flap and was able to see,
Him in his sled as he waved back at me.

"Away Willie—on Ford" was his cry in the night,
And in no time at all he was clear out of sight.
I'll still have to laugh when I'm ancient and old,
At the thought of St. Nick sliding down the tent pole.

That's all there is to it—the story is through,
But before I sign off, here is my wish to you—
"May your Christmas be happy and filled with good cheer!
"May you be well and merry throughout the New Year!"

Area Will Feel Job Impact

Construction of the giant Tennessee Valley Authority steam plant at Cumberland City, Tenn., which is about 45 miles southeast of Murray, will have a major employment impact on this area, according to organized labor union leaders.

Howard Williams, secretary and business agent of the West Kentucky Building and Construction Trades Council, AFL-CIO, said "several hundred" men from the Purchase counties probably would be on the $325 million job at the 2,000-man peak of employment.

Williams said he expected the number of job opportunities available to West Kentuckians at the plant to exceed the number of men seeking work there.

Area Picture Bright

He said "our people naturally prefer jobs closer to home" and that with the $80 million project of West Virginia Pulp and Paper Co. at Wickliffe, continued expansion at Calvert City, advanced work on the Purchase Parkway and other area jobs not too many Purchase residents will want Cumberland City jobs.

Bill Sanders, business agent of the carpenters local here, said, also, that the TVA job will "offer employment to a lot of West Kentuckians" but pointed out, as did Williams, that West Kentucky faces one of the biggest construction years in history.

Harold Kindred, business agent of the plumbers and steamfitters, said his union probably would have as many as 100 workmen on the Tennessee job at its peak.

Organized labor had hopes that the plant would be built on Barkley Lake in Kentucky.

One deplored what he called "favoritism of the TVA towards Tennessee."

He pointed out that TVA operates as if all of the valley was in the state of Tennessee.

He said Paradise Steam Plant in Muhlenberg County was built there because of the coal deposits in the immediate area and that Shawnee Steam Plant was located in McCracken County because of the nearby atomic plant.

Cumberland City — designated only as Cumberland on highway maps of Tennessee is in the southwest section of Stewart County which borders Kentucky along the Christian County line.

Barkley Lake at that point is confined almost to the channel of the Cumberland.

Traditionally, adults in France do not exchange gifts until New Year's Day.

Cards Have Clue To History Of Gift Giver

Greeting card history offers a clue to Santa evolution as a holiday symbol.

The theme of Santa Claus was conspicuously absent from most nineteenth century Christmas cards, points out Miss Esther Mooney, curator of the Norcross Historical Collection. Early cards frequently favored children and flowers. When Santa did appear occasionally on a greeting card, it was generally in the form of a dour, rather sad-faced Father Christmas, robed in a monk's blue garb and long gray beard, or as "Saint Santa," a semi-religious figure developed from St. Nicholas.

These were a far cry from the rotund, red-cheeked Santa depicted on Christmas greeting cards of today.

The modern Santa, fat and friendly, began to emerge at the turn of the century, and about 1909 he appears on a Christmas card. Here he is shown mounted on a hobby horse, rather than a reindeer-drawn sleigh.

The card shows him wearing the now-familiar red jacket, but his trousers still were blue. His stern expression, however, has given way to a slight whimsical smile, brightening his white-bearded, cherub-like face.

The concept of the reindeer sleigh was a still later addition in greeting card history. The early Santa walked with a wheelbarrow or carried his toys in a straw basket attached to his back, or rode a horse.

Today, a jolly Santa Claus, his originally blue robe changed to red, and riding his now traditional reindeer sleigh, is a dominating Christmas card theme.

For Feasting

Good food is traditional at Christmas, and the special treats provided for the season include almost everything, ranging from baked carp in Austria to roast pig in Hawaii.

In France, it's traditional to serve a Christmas supper after midnight mass, but the main dish varies according to the section of the country — roast goose in Alsace, turkey in Burgundy, oysters and sausages in Paris.

England has a mouth-watering array of traditional dishes for Christmas feasting, among them plum pudding. As the pudding is being prepared, it's customary for each member of the family to stir it, making a wish for the New Year.

In Germany, the people bake long cakes for Christmas. The cakes are meant to symbolize the Christ Child wrapped in swaddling clothes.

Doctor in the Kitchen

At this time of the year, when the house is filled with the delightful aroma of Christmas bakery, when cakes, candies, nuts and all sorts of goodies tempt the snacker on every hand, it is a wise idea to stop and consider how easy it is to put on pounds and how hard it will be to take them off after New Year's Day. Nobody wants to take all the joy out of the holiday season, but a reasonable degree of moderation should not be too hard to achieve. The children will feel better and have more fun if they do not go overboard on the sweets, and the older children, who call themselves grown-ups, will do just as well to go a bit easy on the cup that cheers as well as on the Christmas dinner. This dinner should be a pattern for good nutrition containing, as it does, a variety of many foods. But, it should not become an excuse for eating more than is wise.

and sensible. A light breakfast and a good brisk walk BEFORE dinner will also be helpful in maintaining a feeling of well-being which is so essential to a MERRY CHRISTMAS.

Of St. Nicholas

Long before Santa traveled by sleigh, St. Nicholas, special guardian of children, set forth on foot, or rode by horse or donkey, to bring gifts to European homes.

The good saint's day is December 6th, and "on the eve of his festival day," writes an Encyclopedia Americana authority, "St. Nicholas makes his tour, visiting palace and cottage."

The children place receptacles for the gifts, which St. Nicholas is expected to let fall down the chimney. . . . Sometimes shoes are neatly polished for the purpose, at other times plates, or baskets, or stockings, or specially made shoes of porcelain.

"St. Nicholas' steed . . . is not forgotten. For him the children put water and hay, or carrot or potato peeling, or a piece of bread in the shoe, or basket, or stocking."

"In the morning from the tipped-over chairs and general disarray in the room it is evident that St. Nicholas has been present."

"Replacing the oats, or hay, or carrot are found sweets and playthings for children who have been good. For bad children, rods are left, and the fodder is untouched."

And Other 'Santas'

Though Santa Claus is today's most popular Christmas-season gifts giver, he still has plenty of help.

In Northern Europe, many children await the arrival of St. Nicholas, on the Eve of December 5th. In Spain and Latin America, the "Three Kings" traditionally bring gifts on Epiphany Eve, January 5th.

Singing Carols

"Glory to God in the highest, and on earth, peace, good will toward men."

Across the years since shepherds first harkened to an angelic chorus, Christmas rings with the sound of voices raised in joyful song.

Carol singing at Christmas is both a tradition and a source of tradition. Much of the legend and lore of the season is known today only because it has been preserved in song — in carols passed on from generation to generation.

Nunn Will Be Highest Paid Kentucky Governor In History

The former Barren County judge can claim several minor distinctions that most of his predecessors didn't have.

And he will be the highest-paid governor in the state's 175-year history.

The 1966 legislature raised the governor's salary to $30,000 annually compared with $18,000 yearly for Gov. Edward T. Breathitt.

The new lieutenant governor, Wendell Ford of Owensboro, also will receive a salary increase along with all elected constitutional officers.

Ford will get $20,000 a year compared with $12,000 for Lt. Gov. Harry Lee Waterfield.

Other salary increases, effective the first Monday in January, include:

Attorney general and superintendent of public instruction, from $12,000 to $20,000; agricultural commissioner, secretary of state, treasurer, auditor and courts of appeals clerk, from $12,000 to $18,000.

Nunn will be the first Republican governor in 24 years and only the seventh since the Civil War.

Like the last GOP governor, the late Simeon Willis, Nunn seems to have proved the political axiom that the highway commissioner's post is a poor springboard to the governor's chair.

Willis, a former appellate judge, eased past the favorite, J. Lyter Donaldson of Carrollton, who resigned as highway commissioner to make the race.

Nunn defeated former Highway Commissioner Henry Ward last month.

And like Willis, Nunn will face a Democratic-controlled legislature.

But where Willis had a GOP cabinet, Nunn will have a Democrat as lieutenant governor and at least three Democrats in his cabinet.

The Democrats included Supt. of Public Instruction Wendell Butler, Treasurer Thelma Stovall and Atty. Gen. John Breckinridge.

Like 36 former governors, Nunn is a practicing attorney.

Only three governors since the turn of the century have not been lawyers—Ken Johnson, Earle C. Clements and William J. Fields.

December 24, 400 A.D.

In Italy, in the fifth century A.D., church bells rang on Christmas Eve to call Christians to worship.

This seemingly simple event had great significance, for it meant that Christians could worship in freedom, instead of in secret, as earlier suppression of Christianity had forced them to do.

Come to my heart, Lord Jesus, There is room in my heart for Thee A-men

"Thou didst leave Thy throne
and Thy kingly crown
When Thou camest to earth
for me;
But in Bethlehem's home there
was found no room

For Thy holy Nativity.
O come to my heart, Lord
Jesus,
There is room in my heart
for Thee."

There were many places of far greater importance than the little town of Bethlehem but it was there, as the prophets had foretold, that Jesus was born.

There were many homes which might have received Him but His birthplace was a stable.

There were many people who might have visited Him on the night of His birth but only the humble shepherds, keeping their flocks on the Judean hills, cared enough to go.

Today these people and these places live in story and song to remind us of the transforming power of the redeeming love of Jesus Christ. He was God's Gift to the world but only those who received The Gift as their very own could know this power.

Let us make room for Him in our hearts and in our homes that we, too, may know the true meaning of Christmas.

U. C. Snatches Two Decisions

Two game but outgunned South Fulton teams went down to defeat in Union City Friday night as the Union City Golden Tornadoes picked up a 75-55 decision after the Lady Tornadoes had won 43-30.

The Tornadoes got a 19-point performance from Donnie Jones and 10-point efforts from Terry Speed and Jimmy Sterling while South Fulton's attack was paced by Ralph Jackson, with 22, and Alan Ingram, with 20.

In the girls game, Paula Goodman and Karen Moss shared high-point honors for Union City with 17 each. South Fulton was led by Henderson and Bard, each with 11.

Ingram, even in defeat, was a standout in the game. He collected 18 of his 20 points in the first half before fouling out in the second.

"We couldn't handle him," Coach Jerry Lacey admitted today. "He's a really fine ball player. And that Jackson is only a sophomore and got 22 points -- South Fulton has something to look forward to."

Union City simply outmanned the invading Red Devils and used its superior height to dominate the backboards on both ends of the court. Coach Lacey used substitutes freely but, after the opening minutes, the game was never close and never in doubt. Every member of the Tornado team saw action and 11 of them broke into the scoring column.

The Tornadoes led 21-11 at the end of the first period and were comfortably in front at half-time, 40-25. After three quarters Union City had widened its margin to 20 points, 59-39.

The Lady Tornadoes struggled through a less-than-smooth first half and didn't begin to open up a good lead until the second half. The Union City lead after a quarter was 15-9 and the same six-point spread prevailed at half-time, 24-18. After three stanzas, Union City led 32-24.

The lineups:

Union City (43) — Goodman 17, Harris 5, Moss 17, Brinkley, Day, Quarles, Prather, Holt 2, Kinney, Baxter, Burnett, Walling 2, Speed.

South Fulton (30) — Hamilton 7, Henderson 11, Bard 11, Powell 1, Forehand, Morris, Hardy, Dowdy, Netherland, Coleman.

REACHING HIGH— Lady Tornado Paula Goodman goes up high for a shot in the Union City-South Fulton game here Friday night. Miss Goodman tallied 17 points in the 43-30 Union City victory.

GETS IT AWAY— Despite the defensive efforts of South Fulton's Bill Bard (15) and Wilson (18), Tornado Jack Cunningham gets his shot away. In the background is Union City's Terry Speed (54).

JAMES H. HICKMAN, Acting City Mgr. JOHN REEKS, Commissioner and the entire Staff of Employees

Work with us to make a bigger and better Community

COME COME, LADIES— Union City's Paula Goodman and Sonnie Harris mix it up with three South Fulton defenders in this battle for possession while Lady Tornado Karen Moss (11) watches for the result. Miss Moss and Miss Goodman each got 17 for the night.

Christmas is here again and to all our friends we wish a Holiday filled with great joy and good health.
